

2018 NOMINATION FOR THE SMITH-TURNER AWARD FOR EXPEDITIONARY OPERATION AWARD

2101 Wilson Boulevard, Suite 700, Arlington, VA 22201-3060 • (703) 522-1820 • (703) 522-1885 Fax • NDIA.org

HISTORY

The Smith-Turner Expeditionary Operations Award is named after two of the foremost practitioners of Expeditionary Warfare during WWII: General Holland M. Smith, USMC, and Admiral Richmond K. Turner, USN.

PURPOSE

Awarded to individuals who have provided momentous leadership, contributed significant guidance and decisions, and undertaken substantial actions resulting in improved national expeditionary warfare capability.

CRITERIA

The achievements for which this award to be considered will

- Align with the mission of the Expeditionary Warfare Division to serve as the focal point and coordinating element within NDIA for the identification, study and resolution of expeditionary warfare and force protection issues in the littoral regions of the world impacting on the strength of the national defense industrial base and the armed services.
- Be considered through the EWD activities in the following committees: industry; amphibious warfare; littoral and mine warfare; expeditionary unmanned vehicles; C4I in the littorals; sea basing and sustainment; and force protection/ anti-terrorism.
- Demonstrate significant contributions that led to the strengthening of our national security by developing, procuring or supporting Expeditionary Warfare Operations or enabling critical technologies, strategic thinking that contribute the same.

The award is open to all individuals, regardless of grade or position, in the United States Expeditionary Warfare community. All military personnel, government civilians, and industry employees are eligible.

Nominee Full Name
Prefix, First, MI, Last, Suffix

Employer

Background and description of contributions to Expeditionary Warfare:

Submitted By

Organization

Phone

E-mail

Please return this form to MulliganM@battelle.org by Monday, July 30.